The City of Ridgefield is seeking young community members to apply for the first Ridgefield Youth Commission.

The Youth Commission is a unique opportunity for youth to engage meaningfully with local government, share input on issues that matter to them, and help shape policy that matters.

ABOUT YOUTH COMMISSION

The Youth Commission will research assigned topics by working with experts and engaging with their peers. Then, they will collaborate to develop recommendations and prepare a report to City Council.

This advisory board will provide vital youth-oriented perspective on community issues and provide leadership opportunities for its members.

FIRST TOPIC: E-BIKES

E-Bikes are becoming increasingly popular, especially among teens and young adults. This popularity has come with increased number of accidents, near-misses and safety concerns. To give these youth a voice in shaping solutions, E-Bikes will be the first project topic for the Youth Commission.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Attend 8-12 grade in a Ridgefield School District school, OR
- Live within Ridgefield city limits and attend 8-12 grade in a different school or are an equivalent age in a non-traditional school setting.
